CLEVENGER HELD UNDER BIG BOND BY TRIAL COURT

Charge of Assault With Intent to Kill Lodged by Man Hit With Pickhandle; Other Court News of Interest.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL
East Las Vegas, N. M., Nov. 18.—Assault with intent to kill was the charge brought by the San Miguel county grand jury against Joseph R. Clevenger, who is being held under $25,000 bond for striking Fred L. Jones, a Santa Fe fireman, on the head with a pickhandle on the night of November 11. Clevenger is an engineer. His trial will occur at the June term of court, unless he should plead guilty when arraigned, which is not considered likely. Jones' condition is declared to be critical, though the chances are fairly good for his recovery.

The following disposition has been made of cases originated by the recently discharged grand jury:

Juan Castillo pleaded not guilty to the charge of raping his own daughter, Alejandra, aged 14, and asked the court to appoint counsel. Castillo's trial was set for the June term of court, and Luis E. Armijo and Leo M. Tipton were appointed to defend him. The man is in jail, being unable to furnish bond.

Margarito Brindley pleaded guilty to stealing horses from County Commissioner Fidel Ortiz, and was sentenced to the penitentiary for a term of eighteen months.

Isabelo Bustos pleaded guilty to stealing horses and was sentenced to not less than one year and not more than eighteen months in the penitentiary. He also was fined $500.

Eduardo Rivera and Enrique Montoya pleaded not guilty to a charge of assault upon with intent to kill Juan Salazar. Luis Armijo was appointed to defend the men, whose trial will occur next June.

Zacarias Valdes, formerly a special policeman of the West Side, pleaded not guilty to assault upon Willie Ludi, aged 14, with a deadly weapon. He was released upon $1,500 bond and his trial set for the third day of the next term.

Pascual Croppin and Eufacio Bustos pleaded not guilty to the charge of horse stealing and were released upon $1,000 bond to appear at the next term of trial.

Francisco Trujillo pleaded not guilty to the charge of stealing horses, and his trial was set for the next term of court.

Carlos Vilal denied that he was guilty of the charge of abandoning his wife, and he will be given an opportunity to prove his innocence at the June term of court.

"Not guilty" was the response of Juan Lujan when asked by Judge David J. Leahy if he was guilty of the charge of seduction, on which he was indicted. His trial was set for the next term.

Jose Ribera broke the monotony by pleading guilty to a charge of stealing cattle from Jose O. Ribera. He drew down a sentence of one year in the penitentiary and a fine of $500.

Judge Leahy appointed William J. Lucas, O. A. Larralde and S. B. Davis Jr. a committee to draw up suitable resolutions on the death of Manuel C. de Baca, a long time member of the bar who died recently at his home here.

WHAT $10 DID FOR THIS WOMAN

The Price She Paid for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Which Brought Good Health.

Danville, Va.—"I have only spent ten dollars on your medicine and I feel so much better than I did when the doctor was treating me. I don't suffer any bearing down pains at all now and I sleep well. I cannot say enough for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills as they have done so much for me. I am enjoying good health now and owe it all to your remedies. I take pleasure in telling my friends and neighbors about them."—Mrs. MATTIE HALEY, 501 Colquhoun Street, Danville, Va.

No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial. This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women everywhere bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

STATE MUSEUM NOTES

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL
Santa Fe, Nov. 18.—Jesse Nusbaum of the museum went to Lamy this afternoon to meet John Nolen, of Cambridge, Mass., the distinguished architect, landscape artist and America's foremost authority on city planning, who will lecture tonight in the assembly room of the Old Palace.

Prof. and Mrs. V. C. Huntington, of Columbus, O., visited the museum yesterday on their way home from the San Diego exposition and were intensely interested not only in the Old Palace but all that Santa Fe has to offer.

Judge Patton of the federal land office at Roswell visited the museum yesterday and said that his daughter, Miss Marie Patton, now attending the University of Missouri, and a member of the Archaeological society, will spend next summer in Santa Fe attending the summer school.

Mrs. Benson and her daughter, Miss Benson, the artist, have returned from an automobile tour of the southern part of the state, and spent yesterday afternoon among the students of the museum.

A. G. Ackert, of Rockville Center, N. Y., was particularly delighted upon his visit to the museum, to have the privilege of seeing the mural painting of San Juan Capistrano mission by Gerald Cassidy, which is being painted for the Hotel Gramercy, New York, where Mr. Ackert expects to see it in place a few months from now.

Mrs. Martha L. Downing of Philadelphia, and companion from that city, who have been in Jerusalem, Palestine, where one of the archaeological schools of the American Institute of Archaeology is located, were much interested visitors of the museum after a trip to the Rito de los Frijoles.

The following registered at the museum: T. S. Marshall, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Huntington, Columbus, O.; Edward B. Mosher, Fall River, Mass.; S. Burtha Lehmann, Ashland, O.; Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Dickson, Asland, O.; C. C. Beshers, Walsh, N. C.; Arthur H. Montrose, New London, Conn.; Teofilo Apodaca, Sixto Chavez, East Vaughn, N. M.; Elliott S. Thomas, Pittsburgh, Pa.; A. G. Ackert, Rockville, N. Y.; V. C. Simpson, Montoya; W. T. Curry, Montoya, N. M.; Mrs. William Alley Harris, Miss Henrietta C. Harris, Springfield, Mass.; Miss Bertha L. Downing, Philadelphia; J. A. Shaw, Traverse City, Mich.; R. B. Kinder, Denver; Mrs. Benson, Miss Benson, Denning; Judge Patton, Roswell; Julia McCarthy, Buffalo; Violet Henick, Iowa City; Edith Harsh, Denver; R. L. Porter, Hanley.

VISITORS TO DEMING TO SEE LIBERTY BELL REMAIN FOR BIG TIME

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL
Deming, N. M., Nov. 18.—Many of the out-of-town visitors to the Liberty bell celebrations Tuesday remained over for the program Wednesday. There was an aerial display of fireworks, and the dance at the Crystal theater was attended by hundreds of young folks, and it was a very creditable affair, furnishing amusement to many visitors as well as residents of Deming.

A red hot football game was played in the afternoon at Athletic park between the members of the troops of the Thirtieth cavalry, who came up from Columbus to participate in the Liberty bell festivities. It resulted in a final score of 17 to 9, in favor of a picked team of local boys.

The score being all on one side does not tell the full story of the game which was full of excitement from start to finish. One accident marred the game. Private Stewart of Troop G, while running with the ball, was tackled from two sides at once and was thrown with such force that it broke his shoulder. Although Deming was the winner, much credit must be given the soldiers, who played a fast, snappy and gritty game.

NOTED CITY ENGINEER LECTURES IN SANTA FE

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL
Santa Fe, Nov. 18.—John Nolen, of Cambridge, Mass., America's foremost authority on city planning, arrived in Santa Fe today and in the evening lectured in the assembly room of the Palace of the Governors.

"Who's Who" gives half a column to a biography of Mr. Nolen, who is a native of Philadelphia, a Ph. D. of the University of Pennsylvania, A. M. of Harvard, did postgraduate work at Munich, Germany; Sc. D. of Hobart. He is the author of "Re-planning Small Cities," "Madison a Model City," "Art of Landscape Gardening," and drew the plans for the improvement of Madison, Wis.; San Diego, Calif.; Sorrento, Pa.; Wayland, Mass.; Glen Ridge, N. J.; Reading, Wis.; Chattanooga, Tenn.; Milwaukee, Wis.; New London, Conn.; Newport Garden Village, Mass.; La Crosse, Wis.; Roadhouse, Va.; plans for the state institutions of Wisconsin, plans for the agricultural school at Northampton, Mass., and other institutions that are held up as models. He is 45 years of age and married. Mr. Nolen will spend Friday looking over Santa Fe and studying Santa Fe architecture.

Many Auto Thefts.
Santa Fe, Nov. 18.—The stealing of automobiles seems to be on the increase, according to reports received here. On one evening in Roswell, three automobiles were stolen, one from in front of the Presbyterian church. They belonged to Dr. C. F. Montgomery, Edward Sexy and Mrs. William E. Fife. The Montgomery car was recovered. J. J. Roseborough, of Minnre, had his automobile stolen Monday night and Pedro Acosta was arrested, charged with the theft. Reynolds was arrested and fined at Roswell for driving an automobile while intoxicated.

MUNICIPAL TREE FOR SANTA FE TO BE HELD IN CAPITOL GROUNDS

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL
Santa Fe, Nov. 18.—The municipal Christmas tree this year is to be in the Capitol grounds, if the Capitol custodian-board gives its consent. It is to be one of the living spruce trees, near the main entrance in front of the building and will be decorated and lighted. The entire Capitol building, including the dome, is to be ablaze with lights for the occasion. The 2,500 children of Santa Fe are to sing carols and will receive bags of candy while the associated charities will provide a happy Christmas for every needy family in town. Mrs. Mary McPhee Lackey has been placed in charge of the music; Attorney Harry S. Bowman will act as Santa Claus; Col. Jose D. Sosa will be grand marshal of the children's parade.

Preceding the municipal Christmas tree festival, a motion picture performance is to be given in the Palace theater, if the arrangements can be perfected, in which the life of the Christ child as filmed in Palestine, upon the actual spots where the scenes depicted were, originally enacted, are to be shown. From there, the children are to march to the Capitol, where Governor McDonald and other officials are to review the procession. Bonfires, in accordance with the custom observed by Santa Fe for 300 years and more will line the principal streets and will blaze all around and within the Capitol park. Later in the evening, Los Pastores, is to be enacted in various places.

The municipal Christmas tree committee has chosen Mrs. Thomas Doran, president; Mrs. M. L. Burrows, secretary, and Mrs. H. C. Yontz, treasurer. All of the fraternal, civic and public organizations are co-operating in the movement. Santa Fe had a municipal Christmas tree on the plaza last year and the public celebration was one never to be forgotten.

EXCELLENT SHOWING IS MADE BY SCHOOLS OF CHAVES COUNTY

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL
Santa Fe, Nov. 18.—Rev. C. M. Hill, superintendent of schools of Chaves county, makes a splendid showing for his schools in the report he submitted personally today to the department of education, having come up from Roswell to attend the meeting of the state board of education, of which he is a member, and from there going to the educational convention at Albuquerque. Chaves county now has an estimated population of 15,567, according to this report, the school census being 2,893. The county has 123 teachers, of whom only three are third graders, thirty-one are second grade, forty-seven are first grade, three professional and one life. Of the forty-three teachers at Roswell, every one has received training in a professional normal school. Many schools now have nine month terms and not one less than seven months. Fifty-three schools have one teacher, seven have two teachers and four have four teachers. Salaries range from $50 to $125 per month. Superintendent Hill is enthusiastic about the county unit law. At first opposed to it, he now finds it to be especially beneficial in his county.

CHINA TO GIVE LOTS OF TROUBLE AFTER THE WAR

Japanese Diplomat, in Magazine Article, Foresees That His Country Will Have Big Problem to Solve.

(Associated Press Correspondence.)
Tokyo, Oct. 26.—China will loom up as a great question after the present war, in the opinion of H. H. Hsin, former Japanese minister to Peking, and Japan should prepare herself now for a solution of the Chinese question. In a magazine article, Mr. Hsin warns his countrymen that while the European war continues, western powers may seem to be taking little or no interest, but that after the war their ambitions for a share in Chinese commerce will revive. He even goes so far as to express the opinion that if the powers were unable to agree on the Chinese question a second international war would be certain to ensue.

In consequence of this general situation Mr. Hsin, while not a partisan of a formal alliance with Russia at the present time, strongly recommends that Japan and Russia maintain their existing cordial relations and be ready to face any emergency that may arise in connection with the Chinese problem. He said: "The policy of Japan and Russia may have much to do with maintaining peace after the European war. Nations will fight to prevent calamity, but some of them will fight quickly to maintain commerce; and this renders the Chinese question a very delicate one. Whether there comes a war of arms or not, there is certain to be a peaceful war of commercial competition in China. In this struggle for commercial supremacy some nations must inevitably take an inferior position, leading to bitter dissatisfaction and danger, as they behold the prosperity of the conqueror."

Competition in Commerce.
The ex-minister thinks that the Japanese have little to fear of competition in arms, but that they cannot be so sure of themselves when it comes to the peaceful competition of commerce. Japan must, therefore, do everything to insure a commercial victory. Most publicists would undoubtedly think that it would be largely to spend against Germany. "The sudden recovery of Germany," wrote Mr. Hsin, "would be a terror to Japan. Of course, it is natural to suppose that Germany will do all within her power to drive Japan from China and to do everything possible against the interests of Japan. But Japan may hope to be immune from German interference for at least four or five years after the war, for which time Germany cannot be expected to recover former conditions. At any rate Japan has no real fear of Germany, who she would never have declared war against her. Japan entered in the war with Germany with her eyes wide open to the results."

The minister's idea was to keep the Anglo-Japanese alliance secure, and wait patiently for more light on the question of the proposed Japan-Russia alliance. If the latter is consummated the greatest care should be taken to see that it militates in no way against the alliance with Great Britain.

Problem Causes Concern.
The developments of the situation in China—the reports of unrest and possibility of outbreaks, and especially the movement for a restoration of the monarchy—are causing a good deal of concern in Japan and form the subject for ministerial conferences. Japan will presumably fulfill a program for which she has been waiting, based on the principle that, as the great neighboring continental power, she holds or should hold the predominant role in the affairs of China. According to the newsmen here, in case China decides to return to the monarchy.

Japan is likely to take the lead in securing the recognition of the great powers for the new form of government. President Yuan-Shi-Kai is quoted as being desirous of making sure that the new imperial government would receive recognition from the powers before taking the final steps, and as being convinced that he must first secure the recognition of Japan as emperor, feeling that afterward Japan's allies—Great Britain, France and Russia—would fall into line. The attitude of the United States on the question of recognition is a question that furnishes a great deal of speculation. One writer says: "But even if the Washington government should refuse to fall in line with other powers, the apparent leadership of Japan, if it is believed that it will not affect other governments in taking concerted action in giving the necessary recognition to the new government in China."

PENMANSHIP CONTEST TO BE INTERESTING

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL
Santa Fe, Nov. 18.—Who is the best penman in New Mexico? This question will be settled by the educational convention next week by a committee consisting of R. W. Twining, Mrs. Quince Twyer and H. E. Galbraith.

As in former years the spelling contest will attract much interest and enthusiasm. All pupils below the high school may enter. The contest will be both written and oral. Each school can enter only one contestant. For the written contest fifty words will be dictated. Two prizes each will be given in the written and in the oral contests.

The arithmetic and language contests will be in charge of F. G. Woodward, chairman, Rev. C. C. Hill and County School Superintendent H. H. Errett. The contest will be held on Thompson's Minimum Essentials.

Railroad Hearing Completed.
Santa Fe, Nov. 18.—The state tax commission today completed the hearing of the representatives of railroads and other special interests, who all spoke of willingness to pay taxes for legitimate purposes but opposed to paying taxes for extravagances or being gouged while others escape their just share of the tax burden. The county unit law will give each county an increase of school money ranging from $3,000 to $22,000, as compared with last year. As the law at the same time safeguards the expenditures, the public schools will undoubtedly improve rapidly, even more rapidly in the future than in the past. The tax commission expects to complete its work in a few days.
